

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to the synthesis and the joint spatialization of sounds emitted by virtual sources. According to the invention, a step (ETA) is provided that consists of determining parameters including at least one gain (g_i) for defining, at the same time, a loudness characterizing the nature of the virtual source and the position of the source relative to a predetermined origin.